LAW ENFORCEMENT PAYBILL UPDATE

9/13/07

I've had several conversations with David Weinstein in the Governor's Counsel's office (as recently as 9/12/07), and he has repeatedly assured me that the bill will be ready when the Legislature returns. Mr. Weinstein is going to be meeting with representatives from the Division of Budget this week to go over a final draft. The only remaining question now is when will the Legislature be returning? As you are all aware there had been discussions earlier in the summer for a September return, which is not going to happen for reasons we have all heard about in the media. Efforts are underway to secure an October return, but at this point nothing has been solidified.

We are continuing to monitor potential dates for both houses and will keep you updated as things progress.
